Possibly the last photo taken of the two of them—certainly one of the best in recent weeks.

I remember Owen’s smile and infectious laugh. We have many happy memories of our time with Owen and Alice - their visit to our home in the country. Before that our dinners out, Bob’s time with Owen, their boys and our son Mark. Evenings just sitting around enjoying each other’s company.

Tami and Kent- the Lord blessed you with a wonderful Father who loved the Lord and lived what he professed. He is enjoying His presence now in His grand heaven. Won’t be long before we join them both.

Alice, Tami and Kent comfort each other with the knowledge that he is doing well indeed.

Can't even describe how much uncle Owen affected my life. He was the example of a loving father. Gentle, patient and kind. He was the example of a loving husband. I often said to my own husband, "I need you to be the Owen to my Alice" and he knew it meant I needed him to stay in the kitchen with me until it was clean. Uncle Owen and Aunt Alice. Theirs was the example of marriage I wanted. Uncle Owen endured more grief than any father should, but what a beautiful reunion in heaven it is. ❤️
